Type an sich

Do you remember the poster from the Irish artist Les Levine, showing George Bush senior holding his hand up, shouting: "No new artists!"? Was this supposed to portray Bush's ultimate attempt to stop artistic activism, your to dictate other people's minds?

Integrated2011 -third edition already!is more determined than ever to establish connections between graphic design and other artistic fields and disciplines. Integrated2011 is ambitious, inquisitive, eager to make use of a refreshing mix of images, ideas and words, with a view to uncovering the complexity of design and all processes of any kind which may occur in any creative discipline - such is the scope of Integrated.

A glimpse out of the manifesto 'Let's get rid of all dictates!'. "Can it be true that it is our Western semi-religious craving for the sublime originality of individual 'art' and 'design' that has been leading us toward elitism?"
